STORYBOARDS

The idea of a flip clock, relates to the time that Maggie has been away from Andy. First we begin with part of the clock with the camera slowly moving out (01), revealing the clock right to left. We reach the end of the clock (02) and the time changes from 11:59pm to 12:00am (03). We zoom out to the full clock (04) and we see the minutes start to flip, it slowly speeds up and then keeps building speed (05). It is now 2008, a good ways away since we started, then the clock stops and last flips to the title "substitute" (06). End with substitute flipping to black. (Maggies voicemail begins.)
